

The University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg, VA

Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2019-20 Academic Year. We seek an energetic person to teach in our General Chemistry sequence and our Foundations of Chemistry course as well as to assist with lab preparations in General Chemistry. The ideal candidate will have a passion for chemical education and would be able to contribute creatively to the introductory curriculum. This is a full-time position with benefits. Teaching experience is strongly preferred and candidates must have received their Ph.D. in chemistry before August 15th, 2019. Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until May 24th, 2019.